Practice Agreement

The Alaska String Band upholds a standard of excellence and respect for music. Just as Paul and Melissa have explained the importance of dedicated practice to the success of mastering an instrument to their own children...and many students, so the Alaska String Band upholds this same vision for excellence with the Alaska String Band Camp. We exhort camp participants to rise to the challenge of excellence while tempering this with practical advice on practice expectations. With this in mind we ask each prospective camp participant to sign the proposed agreement to insure that each band will reach its full potential.

I, _____, will commit to a dedicated practice schedule for the duration of the six weeks of the Alaska String Band Camp. Privately, I will spend a minimum of thirty minutes per day — five days per week, practicing the selected tunes for my bands final performance.

Other terms of agreement

Students wishing to attend who are beginners with little or no previous experience on their instrument are welcome. We do require these students to sign up for one additional private lesson per week of camp, in order to insure they are successful at mastering the instrument of their choice at an elementary level and can successfully execute the chosen songs for band participation. Private lessons are available for beginners at a cut rate of $20 per half hour.

Please check the following boxes that apply. By signing the bottom, you agree to the terms of the boxes checked.

- Yes, I agree to let "Alaska String Band" use a photo/s of my child for promotional use. (The child's name and other information will not be released.)
- No, "Alaska String Band" may not use a photo/s of my child for promotional use.
- I agree to take full financial responsibility for the instrument that my child is using during camp. I also agree to release "Alaska String Band" of any financial responsibility if any damage is done to the instrument during the camp.
